

Acupuncture for kids and teenagers

Acupuncture is a technique that we use to treat children from very early stages of their lives. With the little ones, we use a very gentle and very quick stimulation of the relevant acupuncture points. Older children can already stand at least a few minutes with a fairy tale and teenagers are happy to take a break from the surrounding environment in peace and warmth on a bed just like adults. Mainly immune disorders, frequent and recurrent infections, eczema, allergies and stomach or headache pains are treated in childhood. With teenage girls we can very effectively harmonise the entire spectrum of problems with menstruation and acne. Another area is preparation for vaccination and elimination of toxins from the body after the vaccination itself. Children generally respond very well to acupuncture with quick effects.
